

IS ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE THE SOLUTION TO ALL OUR POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC PROBLEMS?

“Transition Keeper. Monologies of the New Babylon” encourages you to question reality and how cultures and ideas change with a power shift.

Have you ever thought to yourself whether artificial intelligence can save this planet or will the world be taken over by machines? There has been serious debate over this topic since the idea of artificial intelligence was first introduced.

My name is Helen Sibiriakova; I'm a writer, historian, and professor from Ukraine. My latest book named "Transition Keeper: Monologies of the New Babylon" explores the idea of AI in the future and will make you question artificial intelligence, ethics of power, dual nature of people, cultures, and genders.

The book focuses on the idea of a world run by AI that monitors and maintains a balance of power through different ideologies. This book isn't about showcasing AI as a bad or good thing, but rather about understanding how much technology will evolve in the coming years.

You can watch my presentation (in two parts) here:

The presentation will tell the world about my motivation to write this book, as well as compare power ideologies and the gender's influence on them.

If I were to conclude the premise of my book in one question, it would be, "What would the fate of mankind look like if GOD decided to make himself a machine?" I think all of us should ask ourselves this question. How will we cope with something like that, and how will it be different from these present times.

To write this book, I performed extensive research on artificial intelligence and, more importantly, the evolution of mankind and the psychology behind acceptance of any change. So, I looked at major power changes through history to develop the ideas behind "Transition Keeper". Besides this, I also spoke to both sides of ideologies, to people who want AI to change the future and to people who oppose it. This gave me insight into different opinions that you will get to experience in the book.

This is also why I recommend people from both sides to read my book and watch my presentation video. It will help you understand both perspectives. If you are interested in buying my book, you can get it on
